Importance of indicated institution of CISSS Laval. Not all services are available in English but the employee who cannot speak English, needs to find someone who does speak English.

The 2-1-1 Phone line, is also available for community resources. Close to 300 organizations.

11:05 Lunch and Networking

Online version of the health-passport: health-passport.ca or on the home page of the Agape website agapeassociationinc.com

"Vivre à Laval"- City of Laval, call 3-1-1 to receive the English copy. Very few present at the meeting knew about this. A bad experience refusing to provide the English cop was noted.

Raynald Adams: 311 phone calls are recorded and complaints can be made. Copies in both languages are available online.

Success stories: Annaliese Kosher's husband was at Cité de la Santé and many employees spoke to them in English.

Kevin McLeod: Agape Tablet course application for Funding: A course will be offered for Seniors to learn how to use i pads or Samsung tablets – pending Agape getting approval for funding. Agape may be able to provide a pilot test for this activity if those interested can provide their own device. This is the continuation and adjusted version of the computer courses that are currently available at Agape. New to this project is that High school senior volunteers will be teaching the seniors this course under Agape's and the School's (Community Learning Centre's) guidance. Seniors who grasp the use of these devices best will be invited to provide training to their peers. This course will move from Agape's premises to a larger community centre.

Deadline to submit is June 23rd 2017.
